VOLUME 9 OF SASS RULES OUT - ALSO AVAILABLE IN 8 CD'S!!

The town of Chabot had a small budget shortfall of 89 million dollars (give or take a few bucks claimed Mayor Longhorn). How this could happen was unclear, the city council claimed innocence. An investigation was going to take place - that much was known - but who would break, drop a dime on the others, sell them down the river, snitch, or inform on the others.

The city council, meeting in secret at their saloon (the Howling Wolf) and they figured that the Mayor would sell them down the river because he had most of the money. A hired gun is what was needed. So they agreed to meet the best this side of the Mississippi.

They had never met the gunman so when a stranger sat at their table they didn't know what the prodical was to Councilman Billy (Bruno not Fat Billy) asked the stranger who he was. The stranger told him "Gunfer Hire" Councilman Billy (no Fat not Bruno) said, "Yes, but what is your name." "Gunfer Hire." said Gunfer Hire. "Yea we need a gunfer hire, so what is name?", stated an exasperated Councilman Kid (that would be Shanghai not Potato).

"It is Gunfer Hire." said Gunfer Hire. "Look," said Councilman Kid (Potato not Shanghai), "before we do this we need your name." "Aarrgh," exclaimed Gunfer Hire, "You guys are nuts. I'm outta here."

And that was the end of the plan and the next day more gold was discovered under the Gouge Eye Saloon and the City coffers were replenished.

Gunfer Hire took top gun followed by Sand Dab Sam, Salt Port Steve, Morgan Play and El Passo Gasso.

Tope cowgirl was Ready and Able Anne finishing 14th overall.

CYRUS SIDEWINDER SAVES WATER SHIPMENT!!!

Stage one

With water prices skyrocketing the El Passo Gasso gang figured it would be more profitable to hijack the water shipments and hold'em for ransom. The man in charge of getting the water through to Chabot was none other than infamous gunfighter Cyrus Sidewinder. Deciding to just take his trusty sixguns, '73, and ol' '97 Cyrus headed out for Chabot at the crack of dawn, leading the mule train with over 1000 gallons of fresh water.

As he cleared Panhandle Place pass a voice from behind a boulder yelled "Stop the train, and hit the dirt". But Cyrus would have none of "it" on that day, and in an instant he had sixguns in his hands and whipped the team on. Firing sixguns, rifle, and shotgun, Cyrus successfully got the water to Chabot just in time for the rain.

Gunfer Hire took first followed by Salt Pork, Sand Dab, and Morgan Play.

Stage two & three

Taking time off from his vast real-estate and commercial holdings Gus took a stroll down 3rd Street to get a look at the Fat Billys new Saloon “If it’s Vice it must be Nice”, and out stumbled out more than two dozen liquored up cowboys. Recognizing the famous real-estate mogul the cowboys figured they could have some fun.

As the cowboys taunted Gus they mistakenly made fun of his pride and joy, The Howling Wolf, and in a flash Gus was sending lead their way and quickly dispersed the cowboys.

Gus took a 7th and 6th in stages two and three respectively. Fastest combined time was non other that Rowdy Yates with a combined time of 24.34

SNAKE RIVER CLEANS UP THE

TOWN!!

Stage four

After a long night in the Saloon playing Texas Hold-em the Snake was ahead by a pretty large margin. As the last hand was being dealt the table limits were removed so this was all or nothing. Not trusting the players at the table the Snake kept a close eye on the deal. After the betting rounds the Snake suspected that seconds were being dealt and when the betting between two of the players started to get high. With the betting done the Snake showed to full boat, kings over, and appeared to be beat by another boat with aces over. The only problem was with all the hands showing there was too many aces. Drawing his “45” the Snake declared his hand was the “power”. Some confederates of the crooked gamblers started to come to the rescue of their covered friends so the Snake let’ m have it - with pistol, rifle and shotgun. When the smoke cleared the Snake was indeed the winner.

The Snake took 13th overall. First was Gunfer Hire followed by Salt Pork and Gus Ashcroft.

MORTIMER PESTLE SAVES SALOON!!!

Stage five

NOBODY MOVE - GET ON THE FLOOR” yelled the twenty or so gunmen, as they entered Shanghi Kids Poker Palace and Pool Emporium. “Everybody keep their hands in the air and we won’t have to harm anyone.” Not knowing what to do - not move or get on the floor, the helpless patrons just stood by the badmen began the rifle through pockets, and clean out the cash register. Just as the robbers were finishing from the balcony a resounding yell could be heard, “STOP, IT IS MORTIMER, LAY DOWN YOUR WEAPONS BEFORE I COMMENCE TO PUMMEL YOU.” The startled gunmen laughed at this stranger, anyone named Mortimer can’t be too much trouble, and opened fire on the stranger. But Mortimer was too quick. Flashing his gold jewelry (to distract the gunmen) in a flash his rifle was blazing, and when empty, he played his sixguns like a concert pianist , and within seconds, all of the badmen were dancing with the devil. And again before the smoke could clear Mortimer was gone - riding off into the sunset looking for more crime to squash.

Mortimer took an 11th overall. First was San Dab followed by Tully Mars and Rowdy Yates.
