CHABOT COWBOY SHOOT - WHERE REAL MEN SHOOT REAL GUNS

GUNFIGHTERS FROM THE EAST TAKE OVER THE TOWN - TOP GUN IS BUCK RUE, BUT WAS IT REALLY HIM?????!!!

BUCK RUE, J.C. BOGGS, WHO ARE THESE GUYS?

POWDER BURN AND AURORA BOREALICE MAKE PRESENCE KNOWN SHOOTING UP THE TOWN!!!!

Vol. VI November 2015

For those who find fault in others work, spelling errors have been left in for their amusement.

TWO RIFLES ON ONE STAGE – SASS DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION!!

OLD FRIENDS MAKE SHOOT – GOOD FUN TO SEE SOME OF THE OLD GUARD!!

THREAT OF RAIN DOESN'T STOP REAL COWBOYS, OR COWGIRLS.

It looked like a storm was heading for the small town of Chabot and it was coming from the East. Strangers were seen on the outskirts of town and they looked as mean as Indians on the war path. There was a group of four and they traveled together, hands always near their hardware and always aware of their surroundings. They were not to be trifled with. As they rounded Bucks bend and headed into town the brave men ran for cover, women grabbed their children and ducked into the nearest dress shop.

Even Tully Mars, and Sand Dab Sam, two of the toughest gunfighters in the West pondered their next move – stand and confront these interlopers or have another drink – and having a drink was leading. As the four came down Main Street it became apparent that it was two men and two women. Cyrus Sidewinder, one of the town founders, could not believe his eyes, could it be, no not possible, the last time these four had been seen in the United States was five, six, years ago, just before they boarded a ship to South America for a vacation, or until the law-dawgs got tired of chasing them.

Well that was their story and they were sticking to it. But what, what were they doing back at Chabot??? And who were they really, Cyrus swore it was Max Sand, Tequila Peach, Elk Butt, and Aurora Borealice but when they checked into their room at Bruno Billy's Emporium Palace Hotel, they signed in as Buck Rue, J.C. Boggs, Powder Bern, and Aurora Borealice (who is pure of heart, innocent, chaste and virtuous – and cannot lie).

The rumor that was most popular around town was they were back to open a grand saloon and casino – The Aurora Palace Casino – at the corner of First and Main, and they were going to have an exclusive contract on Elk Head Tequila, a famous brand they developed in Mexico (after they when they retired from gunfighting).

The other saloon owners did not like the sound of this and hired two of the best gunfighters in town (and regulars to their saloons) Sand Dab Sam and Tully Mars – their job find out what the hell was going on and protect their interests. The two gunfighters entered the Dead Eye Gambling Emporium and Candy Shop armed to the teeth ready for anything. The four “strangers” were sitting at one of the back tables enjoying a bottle of Paddy's. Tully and Sand Dab joined them at the table and politely asked what their intentions were. The on calling himself Buck Rue said they just wanted to open a quant Casino to promote their new Tequila.

Tully and Sand Dab eyed each other and demanded to taste this tequila. After sampling a few shots they saw no point in any gun play (as long as they get their share) and they would tell the saloon owners that they had nothing to fear.

It is unbelievable that two trusted gunfighters would turn on the employers for some tequila – well maybe not that unbelievable. Anyway the four strangers using aliases to hide their aliases (except for Aurora Borealice) were in fact Max Sand, Tequila Peach, and Elk Butt. It was really good to see them and fun to catch up on the good gossip.

Tops was Max Sand, aka Buck Rue. It has been a few years since Max popped a cap but that didn't slow him down. Elk Butt, aka J.C. Boggs was 5th overall and Aurora Borealice was 8th overall. Powder Bern had some gun malfunctions which we will blame on Buck Rue. Thanks for everybody's help throughout the year and let's hope we have a range next year.

DEADEYE DANE REDELY AWAKE TO RUSTLERS!!

Stage one

Catching some shut eye after a long day driving his cattle through Chabot county Deadeye Dane awoke to the sound of cowboys trying to move some strays from the main herd. Quickly getting his guns Deadeye quietly moved to the edge of his camp and eyed the rustlers. With his sixguns, shotgun and two rifles – yep two rifles, Deadeye wasn't going to be outgunned by anybody.

As the rustlers gathered the cattle and began their trek out of the valley Deadeye opened up with all of his fire power. With both rifles, sixguns, and shotgun, Deadeye got the rustlers off guard and sent them running, and saving his cattle.

Deadeye Dane finished 9th overall. Tully mars was first followed by Buck Rue?, Salt Pork Steve and Sand Dab Sam.

J.C. BOGGS BLASTS RUDE PATRONS!!

Stage two and three

Bartending can be a fatiguing task, but J.C. Boggs (or whatever his name was) was considered one of the best. His pleasant demeanor was always welcome to trail weary cowboys, and tired saloon girls. But last week 28 Texans bellied up to the bar and demanded shots of whiskey and demanded them now. Not one to take anybody's garbage J.C. Boggs politely informed them that they would have to wait their turns, and he turned his back to them to finish mixing drinks. In the mirror J.C. saw the Texans reach for their guns. In a flashing J.C. whirled around with both six-gun blazing. In less than 40 seconds J.C. had dispatched all of the rude Texans (are there any other type?).

J.C. was 6th and 2nd for stages 2 and 3. Tops was Max Sand finishing 1st and 5th respectively. First in stage three was Tully Mars. Ready and Able Anne was 12th and 3rd respectively.

AURORA BOREALICE SAVES RANCH FROM LAND GRABBERS!!

Stage four

Aurora did not take kindly to the railroad surveyors placing survey markers on her ranch property just outside of town. Refusing their latest cash offering to sell the property, the presence of the surveyors was the last straw. Grabbing her rifle, shotgun and sixguns, she confronted the railroad men. As they went for their guns she opened up on them. Scattering 24 shots in there general direction. The survey crew was last seen catching a train out of town.

Aurora was 6th overall. First was Sand Dab Sam followed by Salt Pork Steve, Tully Mars, and Buck Rue.

READY & ABLE ANNIE CLEANS UP RED LIGHT DISTRICT!!

Stage five

Upon being elected to the town City Council and put in charge of "cleaning" up the town. She swore to uphold the laws of the land and make the town of Chabot safe for its citizens. This did not sit well with the brothel owners who ran the South section of town, on the other side of the tracks. With this treat to their business a plan was set in motion to lure Annie into the district and gun her down.

What they did not count on is Annie's sharp mind and quick gun. As she approached the district, over 20 hired guns lay in wait. But they were too slow. Annie approached with sixguns blazin' when they were empty he used his shotgun and rifle ridding the town of the back-shooters. With the threat gone Annie was last seen entering one of the parlors to conduct some official business.

Annie was 8th overall in our make shift, revised, last stage, not to bad. First was Buck Rue followed by Sand Dab, then J.C. Boggs, Salt Pork Steve and Tully Mars.
